Center Loop

Welcome to the Olympic Sculpture Park! This park was opened in 2007 as part of the Seattle Art Museum expansion, with current museum operations expanded across three locations including the Seattle Asian Art Museum, the Olympic Sculpture Park, and the downtown location collectively holding approximately 25,000 art pieces.

One of the opening sculptures within the park is Ai Weiwei: Circle of Animals/ Zodiac Heads. Name one of the 12 animals included in this installation.

Answer: _____

Welcome to the Chihuly Garden and Glass Museum! Although Dale Chihuly exhibits his art all around the world, this museum is his largest and most comprehensive collection, which is fitting since he was born in the Pacific Northwest in Tacoma, Washington. It is also fitting, given this location, that this museum is the only Salmon-Safe certified exhibition in the United States.

Much of his art within this collection is inspired by nature, with many flower glass pieces in the garden. Near the gift shop, there is a flower installation labeled "Sonic Bloom"- how many flower structures are there?

Answer: _____

Welcome to the Space Needle! Originally built for the 1962 World's Fair to fit "The Age of Space" theme, this tower stands at 605 feet tall and has the world's first and only revolving glass door.

Outside of the entrance, there is a checkered art piece accompanied by a plaque with a land acknowledgement. Who is the artist of this piece?

Answer: _____

Looking for other cool places to visit in Seattle and open to a bit of a trek? We recommend the following locations:

Center for Wooden Boats

Gasworks Park